

Enterprise Grants $725,000 to 17 Affordable Housing Organizations

Enterprise's New York office is pleased to announce that we have granted $725,000 to 17 affordable housing organizations in New York City. These grants were made possible by the HUD Section 4 Capacity Building program, which ensures that community-based organizations have resources to create and sustain jobs, increase housing production and preserve the vitality and affordability of existing housing developments in low-income communities.

Enterprise is supporting grantees to build capacity in critical programmatic areas including health and housing, senior housing, preservation and energy efficiency.

Grant funding is supporting The Fortune Society to hire a Health Homes Coordinator to provide comprehensive care to formerly incarcerated residents who are dealing with reentry and medical needs. Grant funding is also supporting Settlement Housing Fund to build organizational capacity by expanding its asset management strategy through systems and structures that provide ready access to portfolio-wide information on metrics, vacancy rates, net operating costs and violations. And grant funding is supporting many more capacity building initiatives that would otherwise not be possible.

Please join Enterprise in congratulating all of the 2015 grantees:

We Must Preserve Section 4

Over the last five years, Enterprise has awarded over $4 million in Section 4 funding to more than 30 New York area organizations.

Section 4 is a critical program because it provides capacity building funds to community-based affordable housing organizations. To learn more about Section 4, its impact and how you can help protect this program, visit Enterprise's website.
